SASSO, GUILTY, GETS 20 YEARS

Philip Sasso, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of murder, second degree, in having killed Jesse Christiana, a guard at the Napanoch Institution for Mental Delinquents, was found guilty of the crime as charged by the jury. It was alleged that Sasso, during the riot on July 23, 1923, hit Christiana over the head with one of the stools used by inmates in the mess hall and as a result of the blow Christiana died the following night without gaining consciousness.

SEVERAL SAW CHRISTIANA HIT

With Stool in Hands of Sasso, Whose Case Went to Jury Thursday—Boyd Pleads Not Guilty.

The trial of Philip Sasso, charged with the murder of Jesse Christiana at the Napanoch Institution during a riot on Thursday afternoon and the case submitted to the jury for its consideration.

Defendant was put on the stand in his own behalf and was the only witness sworn by the defense. Sasso, who speaks a broken English and a Spanish, said that there had been a movement on foot at the institution to start a riot. That the matter had been talked by the leaders to make a break for liberty on Thursday of the week in which the riot did take place. The riot was started at mess on Monday because of some trouble which took place in the prison yard just before the inmates were marched into the mess hall. Sasso denied that he had been taken in the confidence of the rioters of the riot although he was a friend and worked with Brown, one of the men who is said to be one of the instigators.

Sasso on the stand said that he was dissatisfied with the food at the institution and wanted to escape. He had figured his term up and thought he should have been discharged. He admitted that he had tipped over the table at which he was seated and that during the riot which followed he had hit some of the officers and had also hurled some stools. Sasso claimed that Sheppard, the inmate who died as a result of the riot, was the leader of the affair. Sasso testified that when he overturned the table Officer Roberts came after him with the cane which the officers carried and that he wrestled with Roberts and succeeded in getting the cane away from him. Jesse Christiana, who had charge of no company that day came to Roberts' assistance and it was then that he was hit with a stool. Sasso denied that he struck Christiana with the stool but he did say that he had thrown several stools at various officers. He developed that Sheppard, Brown and Sasso had been friends at Auburn prison before being brought to Napanoch.

Officers Roberts, Krom, Robert Wager and William Oakley were sworn and testified to what they saw of the riot in the mess hall. Krom was surrounded by a large body of inmates in the rear of the hall but saw Christiana struck as he attempted to come to his rescue. Roberts did not see the striking of Christiana as he had left the hall and gone to the office for assistance and guns. Wager and Oakley who were stationed at different points of the hall witnessed the affair and one testified that he saw Sasso take the cane from Roberts and then pick up a stool and bring the stool and cane down on Christiana with the force of both hands.

William Boyd, colored, was arraigned in court on a charge of carrying a pistol without a permit, a violation of paragraph 5, section 1897, of the Penal Law alleged to have been committed in the town of Ulster on May 12 last and also on a charge of carrying a weapon capable of being concealed. Also on a charge of assault, second degree, alleged to have been taken place on September 16, 1922, in the town of Ulster. Chris Planagan appeared for defendant and entered a plea of not guilty to the crime as charged in the indictment and asked 30 days to make motion. Court went into recess.

SCOUT TEAMS REPORT $4,200

Saugerties, New Paltz and Phoenixia Turn In $608 Towards Thursday's Total—Meeting Tonight.

$4,200 was reported Thursday evening as the amount subscribed at that time toward the $12,000 budget for financing the Boy Scout movement for the coming year. There was an increase in the number of workers gathered at the Y. M. C. A. last night, every team reporting with the exception of one. Of the city team captains, Ernest Acker captured first place reporting $134. C. R. Rowland was second with $114 and James Snead $107.

The flying squadron of Saugerties reported $300 subscribed. New Paltz, $200 and Phoenixia, $168. These amounts were included in the final amount of receipts for Thursday. Professor Bennett of the New Paltz Normal school addressed the gathering at the "Y" Thursday evening. His talk was very interesting, describing the value of the Boy Scout movement as a factor to the man in years to follow.

Tonight the boy scout workers will meet with the Father and Son banquet at the Y. M. C. A.

GERMANY RESUMES DOLES IN RUHR

100,000,000 New Gold Marks Sent to Prevent Industrialists From Making Peace With French and to Avert Chaos.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, Nov. 16.—Contrary to the urgent advice of the ministry of finance, the cabinet today decided to continue financial support of the unemployed in the Ruhr for another ten days.

This decision was based upon the following considerations:
First—To avert threatened chaos which is deemed inevitable if the penniless, unemployed Germans in the Ruhr are left without any support whatsoever.

Second—To rob the industrialists of the excuse of making their own deals with the French.
Third—To avoid giving the Reich the attitude of setting the Ruhr adrift, an attitude which would give impetus to the movement for an autonomous Rhineland republic.

The government decided to send 100,000,000 new gold marks into the Ruhr for unemployment doles.

UTICA AND MOHAWK IN STATE BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Utica and Mohawk were granted franchises in the New York State Basketball League at a meeting of the organization Thursday in the Mohawk hotel, Schenectady. With the addition of Utica and Mohawk, the circuit will be comprised of six cities, the others being Schenectady, Cohoes, Amsterdam and Glens Falls. Bill Heppinstall, owner of the Albany franchise, told the officials that he had definitely decided not to continue a team in Albany, explaining the overhead expenses in connection with home games in the Washington avenue armory precluded any profit from being made.

K. H. S. FACULTY TO GIVE PLAYS

Prisma, Football and Other Activities—Senior From November 30.

The high school football team has been taking it easy this week as there is no game booked for Saturday. On Monday the team went through a light workout. On Tuesday there was no practice, Wednesday a light scrimmage was held and Thursday signal practice. Manager Keating has tried hard to get a team to play Saturday, but has been unsuccessful. All the members of the team are in good shape and will be in rare form for the Newburgh game on Saturday, November 24th.

On December 7th, the high school faculty will present three one act plays on that date in the High School auditorium. More about these plays will be published later.
This year the Prisma Club is introducing a new feature in its work. This is the establishing of a debating department. The first debate was held last Friday night. The subject was one which is vital to this year's senior class: "Resolved, that the Maroon should be continued on the same basis as in other years." The affirmative was upheld by Ruth Clark, leader, Charlotte Wheeler and Mary Hubbard. The negative was upheld by Melba Simmons, leader, Sadie Jacobson and Ernestine Sheer. After a very spirited and interesting debate, the affirmative received the judge's decision. The debate showed some good talent among the girls and it is quite probable that they will issue a challenge to the girls debating club at Poughkeepsie.

A regular Prisma meeting was held on Wednesday night. The business meeting was held first and all reports were read. The Prisma is making money by selling cake and candy in the corridors after school. After the business meeting Beatrice Follette, chairman of the entertainment committee, took charge. Some of the members were given topics and had to speak on them. Miss Cordes spoke on "Fishbone as a Diet." Miss Cordes went deep into the subject, taking it from a scientific, mathematical, geometrical and physical standpoint. After a general good time the meeting adjourned.

The senior class has succeeded in choosing its ring and it will not be long before they go about the streets braving the cold weather without gloves to show their rings. The ring is a beautiful blue onyx with K. H. S. on the top and the numerals at the sides.

As is customary, the senior class is opening the social year at the school by the senior prom, which takes place on the 30th of this month. The committee is working hard and has practically made all arrangements. The Imperial orchestra will furnish the music for the dance.

$500 Gift For Services.
A committee representing most of the officers at the Napanoch Institution for Defective Delinquents called on Judge Cunningham at his home in Ellenville on Monday evening and in appreciation for his advice, guidance and efforts in securing the restoration of their salaries for the scale which prevailed when the institution was a reformatory, presented the judge with a gift of $500 for the services which he intended to be entirely gratuitous.

KIWANIS TO VISIT SCHOOLS

Education Week and to Help Poughkeepsie Celebrate Spending of $1,000,000 on Pavements.

Paul A. Zucca, a new member, directed the singing at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday at McCabe's restaurant in a manner that promises great things for the future and Dr. C. H. Bishop, whom many people no longer young will remember as a choir singer when they were children, sang a solo so well that he was forced to respond with an encore. Chester A. Baltz and Charles A. Lasher gave educational talks along Kiwanis lines that better acquainted many of their fellow members with the meaning of Kiwanis.

Next week is National Education Week and a letter was read from Superintendent M. J. Michael inviting Kiwanis Club members to visit the city's schools during that time to see first hand how children here are instructed. It was decided that committees should be named to visit the grammar schools, as well as the high school, in acceptance of the invitation.

Poughkeepsie Kiwanis Club invited the local club to visit them next Tuesday evening when they will have charge of the city's celebration of the completion of its four million dollar paving program and almost all present dignified their intention of going. The money has been almost entirely spent on Poughkeepsie's main street.

Dr. Frank L. Eastman won the attendance prize, donated by Ira V. D. Warren.

Edward Bonstedt was another new member attending his first meeting.

OFFICERS OF SISTERHOOD UPTOWN HEBREW SCHOOL

The regular meeting of the Sisterhood of the Uptown Hebrew School was held Thursday evening at its rooms, 263 Fair street, with a large number present. Mrs. Schwartz, former president, donated $5 toward the school. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Forstz, former secretary, for her services to the school during office. Following the meeting refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

At a recent meeting the following officers of the school were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Levy; vice-president, Mrs. Cipnic; treasurer, Mrs. Kirchner; and secretary, Mrs. J. Goldberg.

ZONING MATTER UP TO INCOMING ADMINISTRATION

A conference was held Thursday evening at the city hall to discuss the proposal to secure an appropriation from the city to cover the expenses of establishing a zoning system here. No decision was arrived at. Louis S. Coe, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Arthur C. Connolly were in conference with Mayor Crane but it was decided to discuss the matter with Mayor-Elect Block and members of the board of aldermen.

Walther League Service.
This evening a Walther League Service will be held at the Livingston Street Lutheran Church. The Rev. George F. Schmidt will preach the sermon instead of the Rev. Mr. Mueller, who is unable to be present. After the service a social hour will be enjoyed. All are invited.

GASOLINE DOWN ANOTHER CENT

Gasoline has been reduced another cent a gallon retail reaching a new low level for recent years. At the various stations about the city gas is retailing for 15 cents a gallon. A further reduction in the price of crude oil and the large surplus of gasoline on hand is responsible for the reduction in the wholesale price. Fifteen cent gasoline by spring has been predicted.

GRANT'S $105 STILL MISSING

James Grant, a negro employed on the Shandaken tunnel, came to Kingston several days ago and visited Morris Miller's place on West Strand. While there he claimed he was robbed of $105 and accused John Russell and Charles Bishop, two negroes also employed on the Shandaken job. All three with several others had come to Kingston the same day. The case had been adjourned to today to give the police an opportunity to investigate, but they had been unable to unearth any evidence incriminating the accused negroes.

"How did it happen that you two found Miller's place so easily?" asked Judge Schrick turning to Russell and Bishop.
"We done ask a taxi man where we could get a drink, and he took us there," they replied.
"How about you?" asked the court turning to Grant.
"The taxi man done accommodated me too," said he.

Russell and Bishop were discharged, and all three left to return to the job with a warning to remain away from Kingston.

GRASS DIAMOND HERE NEXT YEAR

Also Most of Colonial Players Will Again Cavort at Fair Grounds and Four Big League Teams are Expected.

At a meeting of the officers of the Kingston Fair Grounds, Inc., and the managers of the Colonial Baseball Club, held Thursday afternoon, a contract was signed for the use of the baseball field next season. The terms are practically the same as this year. The grounds are to be improved and the diamond put in by the time the playing season opens. The grounds in the rear of the home plate will be filled in and other improvements made to the field. Arrangements are being made for at least three big league clubs to play the locals at the Fair Grounds next season. This season one big league team, the Philadelphia Nationals, was brought to Kingston and a mighty good game was the result. Practically all of the players will be again signed by local management for the next season.

Plans will possibly be made to have John Henry attend all games next season. John's repertoire was fine and thoroughly enjoyed by the fans this season and his presence in the grand stand again next season would be a feature.

FRANK MESSING BADLY INJURED

When Fall Of Water He Was Carrying Was Hit By Locomotive, Hurled Him to Ground.

Frank Messing of No. 39 Prospect street, a member of the bridge gang of the Ulster & Delaware railroad, was removed from his home to the Kingston City Hospital this afternoon for treatment for injuries received at Bloomville about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Messing and his son, Francis, Jr., were walking between the main track and the siding at Bloomville carrying water to the car in which the men slept and ate while at work in that vicinity. They each carried a pail filled with water in one hand and between them were carrying a milk can filled with water.

There were cars standing on the siding. As the men were walking along they evidently thought they were clear of the main track, but the forward end of engine No. 20 struck the pail being carried in the father's hand throwing him to the ground. He struck on his head and sustained a scalp wound and several fractured ribs. He was treated at Bloomville by a physician and Thursday was brought to his home here.

JAMES KING DIED SUDDENLY

Had Written Postcard to His Wife at 7:30 Monday Morning and at 8 O'clock His Body Was on Way to His Home Here—Relatives Think Death Due to Foul Play.

James King of No. 217 Sycamore street, died suddenly in the cabin of a grain boat at Ashtabula, Ohio, on Monday, and his relatives here believe that death was due to foul play. Monday morning at 7:30 o'clock Mr. King had written and mailed a postcard to his wife, and at 8 o'clock that afternoon his body was on the way to his home here.

Today members of the family stated that they would seek an interview with District Attorney Traver and see if the matter of Mr. King's sudden death could not be investigated.

There is not a mark on the dead man's face, but the relatives claim that there are marks on the body. The death certificate which arrived with the body states, however, that death was due to heart disease.

Mr. King is survived by his wife and daughter, Bessie. The funeral will be held Saturday from the late residence on Sycamore street.

INJURED BABE'S AN UNUSUAL CASE

Has Fracture Of Thigh Bone, Almost Unheard Of In Child So Young—Was Hurt When Father's Ford Spilled Family Out.

Henry Deyo, five weeks old, furnishes the staff of the Benedictine Hospital with the most extraordinary surgical curiosity which has been encountered by the profession in a long time by sustaining a complete fracture of the femur, which is the bone of the upper leg. The fracture is about midway between the knee and the hip.

What makes little Henry's case remarkable is the fact that the bones in children of that age usually are so pliable that they will not break. Surgical records show cases of very young children whose bones are fractured, but the fracture in such cases resemble a bend more than a break, from which fact they are called "greenstick" fractures, from their resemblance to a green stick which will bend but not break. It is not until a child becomes older that the bones are brittle enough to break.

Little Henry Deyo lives with his parents in Milton. On Wednesday the family was coming to Kingston in their automobile when the steering gear went out of order near Port Ewen. The car overturned. Mr. Deyo, the father, and several children were more or less bruised and shaken up. Little Henry was in his mother's arms. She was only slightly bruised, but Henry seems to have borne the brunt of the accident. He was brought to the Benedictine hospital Thursday and examined by Drs. William J. and John G. O'Leary, who diagnosed the case as a broken leg but were scarcely able to convince themselves that their diagnosis was correct because of the well known physiological character of the bones of children only five weeks old. But an X-ray examination showed the fracture, a simple fracture but a complete one. The baby is getting along nicely and the bone probably will knit together in record time.

FELIX KRYESKI IS PICKED UP BY POLICE

IS FREED AND AGAIN ARRESTED

Louis Ragland, Charged With Assault in Second Degree Has Charge Dismissed, But is Re-arrested for Carrying Concealed Weapons.

Louis Ragland, a negro, arrested several days ago on the complaint of John Carter, another negro, who charged Louis with assault in the second degree, was arraigned before Judge Schrick in police court today for a hearing. He was represented by Attorney A. J. Cook.

The evidence produced at the hearing showed that the entire alleged assault consisted of Ragland, who had just received a new revolver from a mail order house, desiring to show it to Carter. Ragland drew the run from his pocket saying, "I want to show you my new gun." Carter then went and lodged a complaint.

After hearing the evidence of Carter himself, Judge Schrick dismissed the complaint.

Ragland, however, was not to get off easily for he was immediately re-arrested by the police charged with carrying concealed weapons, and was held to await the action of the next grand jury. Bail was fixed at $500.

CANTATA AT RONDOUT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On Sunday, November 18th, at the 6 o'clock vesper service at the Rondout Presbyterian Church, an augmented choir will give the beautiful harvest cantata, "A Harvest Song," by C. Lee Williams, under the direction of Miss Virginia Los Kamp, solo contralto. Mrs. Carolyn Sager Rich will be the solo soprano and Arthur Rittenbary the solo tenor. The choruses, so attractively arranged for male voices will be sung by the Messrs. Rittenbary, Dana, Church, Hudler, Nelson, Holsman, O'Connor, Finley, Rowland and Terwilliger.

The cantata begins with a song of thanksgiving to God for his goodness during the changing seasons. Then in solo and chorus numbers tells of how the rain came bringing beauty to the earth through the springing flowers, blossoming fruit trees and green meadows, afterward tips with corn; and how the birds sang with joy and praise to their Creator. Then how the summer contributes its share to the coming harvest. The men's voices describe the approach of the frost and the power of God to hold it back until the harvest is gathered in, in a great triumphal chorus.

Then there is a song of praise to God for His mercy and gracious kindness, and the close is with a full chorus in a doxology of praise and glory to God.

SAVED THE CROPS

Alberta Spent Half-Million Dollars to Protect $82,000,000.

Government's Campaign Against the Grasshoppers Nets Big Return for the Farmers.

The Province of Alberta spent more than half a million dollars in 1922 in the destruction of grasshoppers, but saved to the farmers of the province approximately $20,000,000 worth of crop, according to returns received by the Dominion Department of Agriculture from municipal secretaries and others. Of the total cost of $512,258, the municipalities and local improvement districts are charged with $257,040, the provincial government bearing the balance.

The success of the campaign forms an outstanding example of the result of organized and concentrated government, municipal and community effort. Not only government officials, but municipal authorities, farmers and even the citizens of the towns and some of the cities in the infested area, played their part in winning victory over a pest that threatened to wipe out the crop vegetation and rob the farmers of the fruits of their labors.

Grasshopper infestation in Alberta became serious some years ago, but aside from government efforts to educate the farmers in the matter of applying poison bait, and to provide material at certain centers, there was no real or united effort to combat the pest. It was at the beginning of 1922 that the minister of agriculture and his officials realized that a combined effort on the part of all concerned was needed if the crops of a large portion of the province were to be saved from devastation. Alberta by this time had begun to feel the effects of lack of action in Montana, where infestation was enormous, and from which large flights into Alberta had taken place.

In order to combat this pest every possible medium of education was utilized. Meetings were held, pamphlets were issued and the newspapers gave generously of their space. Scouts were appointed to see that infested areas were poisoned, and the government supplied the bait mixers and paid the men who ran them, the cost being charged against the district. The bait used was a mixture of bran, sawdust, salt, molasses and arsenic. It was found to be most effective when applied between the hours of 6:30 and 10 in the morning, before the bait had dried out under the sun, and during the hours when the hoppers were feeding.

Where bait was left in bulk and easy of access by live stock, or where it was carelessly scattered so that there was any quantity in one spot, there was loss of live stock. With careful handling and scattering of bait according to directions, there can be no danger to stock, experts say.

The American Outclassed.

The American truth teller was in form. "Talking of ants," he said, "we've got 'em as big as crabs out West. I've seen 'em fight with long horns, which they use as lances, charging each other like savages."

"They don't compare with the ants I saw in the Far East," said an inoffensive individual nearby. "The natives have trained them as beasts of burden. One of 'em could trail a ton load for miles with ease. They worked willingly, but occasionally they turned on their attendants and killed them."

But this was drawing the long bow a little too far.

"I say, old chap," said a shocked voice from the corner, "what sort of ants were they?"

"Elephant-ants," replied the inoffensive individual.—London Tit-Bits.

Old Mirror Frames Made New.

When mirror frames become scratched or tarnished they may be made attractive again by gluing to the old frame ribbon or silk that harmonizes with the color scheme of the room. Brocaded metallic ribbon and shirred silk are especially effective. Suspended from the wall with a length of ribbon ending in tassels, this ribbon-covered frame will add an artistic touch to any room.

Remarkable.

Speaking of childish wisdom, we have this contribution from Sierra Madre: "I was trying to mend Vera's much-battered dolly while my baby toddled about the yard. After watching me awhile, Vera exclaimed: 'Goodness, aunty, how long you've had that baby, and he hasn't even lost an arm yet.'"—Los Angeles Times.

POULTRY

To Produce Winter Eggs

Give Pullets Good Care

"Finishing the pullets" means getting the young stock in a condition which will allow them to go through the winter in good health, produce a good number of eggs and develop a resistance against disease, says W. H. Allen, extension poultry specialist, New Jersey agricultural experiment station.

The pullet is allowed to reach its maximum growth before it is permitted to lay eggs. In Leghorns this will occur when they are about five months old, and with the dual purpose breeds, such as Rhode Island Red and Plymouth Rock, it will take at least a month longer. The lighter breeds, such as the Leghorns, should weigh at least three pounds at time of conditioning, and the heavier breeds, like the Rhode Island Red, should weigh from four to four and a half pounds.

The ration used in conditioning a flock consists largely of fattening foods, such as corn, wheat, oats and their by-products, with as little animal protein as possible. A good scratch feed consists of equal parts of cracked corn and wheat. This is fed twice a day, approximately six to eight pounds per 100 birds at each feeding.

A good mash for this period is two parts of wheat bran, two parts of corn meal, two parts of ground oats, two parts of flour middlings, and one part of meat scrap. This mash is kept before the pullets at all times. One hundred growing pullets eat five to ten pounds of it a day.

The conditioning period takes approximately a month, two weeks on the range and two weeks in the laying quarters. As soon as the pullets show signs of laying on the range, they are housed, and the same feed continued for two weeks before changing to a laying ration.

When the pullets are housed they need just as much green feed and exercise as if still on the range.

Oyster shells are kept where the birds can always get them.

Find Sulphur Practical

Remedy for Poultry Ills

The argument of some poultrymen that sulphur is harmful to fowls in wet weather is declared by N. W. Sanborn, poultry specialist of the Florida college of agriculture, to be a mistaken idea. In fact, the birds that have been given sulphur in their feed for some time are better able to stand long wet periods than they otherwise would be.

The primary purpose for which sulphur is recommended is to modify the attacks of sorehead, according to Dr. Sanborn. Sorehead—a disease of poultry that is similar to measles which affect children, in that it never attacks the same bird more than once—is considered one of the very worst troubles with which the Florida poultryman has to contend. Some states, after conducting experimental tests with a number of remedies, have advocated the inoculation of the poultry with a serum. However, Florida has never conducted any such tests, but its specialists have learned that sulphur is a practical remedy.

Dr. Sanborn recommends that the sulphur equal 1 per cent of the mash, with which it should be mixed. It is particularly recommended for growing chickens, serving not only to modify the disease but also as a food. The sorehead attacks are only mild when sulphur is fed because the chicken's body and system are kept in a strong, healthy condition.

Hopeless Task to Raise

Young and Old Together

Some place it is stated that it is unwise to put new wine in old bottles. A modern version would be that it is unwise to put young chicks in quarters occupied by mature stock. It is almost a hopeless task to raise young and old together. The conditions are not sanitary, the chicks are badly infested with lice, and the hens get first chance at the feed. The chicks get trampled under foot and what few live don't grow because they have little opportunity to eat.

Successful Poultryman

Picks Choicest Fowls

The poultry raiser who does best is almost always the one who carefully picks out each year only his choicest specimens and breeds from these exclusively. As a natural result, his flocks become better and better each year. By the same token the man who is breeding for heavy egg-production should pick out his very best layers to be used as breeders, and in the course of a few generations the habit of prolificacy will become firmly established in this family.

Henhouse Draft Brings

on Many Poultry Diseases

"Foretell a roup epidemic by stopping up draft-producing openings in the henhouse," suggests G. L. Stevenson, professor of poultry husbandry at the South Dakota State college. "Plenty of fresh air without drafts is highly desirable. Drafts and dampness produce colds, which run into roup, pox, cancer and diphtheria. The air supply in a henhouse may be more readily controlled by having the south side equipped with ventilators."

THE CENSORSHIP BILL.

The state of New York has had for many years adequate and enforceable laws against libel and obscenity in print, under which crime committed in this way is severely punished. In the case of an obscene book, not only is the publisher or person offering an obscene publication for sale severely punished but the stock is seized and destroyed. With this penalty enforced, as it is, it is very seldom that a publisher over-steps the line, as no sane business man will incur the expense of bringing out a book that he is not reasonably sure he will be permitted to sell. For this reason the law is preventive as well as punitive.

But an association of persons looking for something to reform and dictate to caused a book censorship bill to be introduced in the legislature last winter that came very near being passed because up to almost the last minute nobody had taken the trouble to examine it closely. This bill is to be introduced again in the next legislature and a determined effort made to pass it. Such a law would give no good result not already assured by existing laws, but would eventually create a lot of new jobs and immediately harass the publishing business by placing it at the mercy of official boards of censors. Under the proposed law it would be unlawful to publish the works of Shakespeare until approved by the censors.

Under the assumption that the censors would be a lot of Willie boys, most of the opposition has been based on the havoc that such persons would cause in attempting to put in effect their puritanical restrictions. This would be bad enough, but a worse feature is that the censors would very soon be made up of the pets of machine politicians who would condemn everything tending to injure or even criticize the particular "machine" to which they owed allegiance. Whoever was in power would be secure from attack or criticism through the medium of books or pamphlets.

ANOTHER CAMPAIGN COMING.

In the face of a desperate effort by Governor Smith and Tammany-Democratic leaders throughout the state to carry the Assembly in the election last week, the Republican majority in the lower house was increased substantially, showing that the electorate recognized the motive behind the Tammany appeal for unbridled control of the state government. The Governor and Democratic leaders made this the pronounced and outstanding issue of the election, and brought to bear every influence to swing the Assembly into the Democratic line-up. The result can only be accepted as an indication that the Smith program and Tammany domination have not met with public approval.

While the result is invigorating and encouraging, it must not be accepted as a warrant for inactivity on the part of Republicans who must prepare for the contest next year. George K. Morris, chairman of the Republican State Committee, stated that the result affords a splendid outlook for 1924, and Speaker Macboid declared that while the people expressed their determination to prevent complete Tammany control, a program will be demanded on the part of the Assembly which will be sound and progressive, and which will merit the confidence so clearly expressed. Both Chairman Morris and Speaker Macboid well realize that there is hard work before Republicans from this time up to the 1924 campaign.

The performance of the railroads last year, as set forth in the annual report of the American Railway Association, is a revelation of efficient management and ought to silence the critics who believe better transportation would result from government operation. From almost every angle, the records of previous years were all broken. In the first nine months of the present year 134,638 new freight cars and 2,693 new locomotives were put into service, a larger number than ever before in a nine-month period. A larger number of locomotives were repaired and put back into service, and new low records of 3.46 per cent for bad order cars and 13.7 per cent for bad order locomotives were established. There were 40,545,920 cars loaded with revenue freight, exceeding by 18 per cent the record of 1922. The average daily travel for a freight car was 29.2 miles, which was 4.7 miles over the best previous record. The average freight car carried the equivalent of 511 tons one mile each day, exceeding all records, and surpassing 1922 by 31 per cent. Coal for the Northwest, aggregating 23,265,635 tons, was delivered at lake ports much earlier than usual, thus releasing much rolling stock for other purposes.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Lorton, M.D.

SO EASY TO TRAVEL.

Some water gets into your house by means of an open front door. It flows along from vestibule to living room, to dining room, and to kitchen. If you discover the open door early you get busy and sweep or mop the water out, and it doesn't get past your vestibule.

Perhaps you get busy by the time it has reached the dining room. On the other hand you may not discover it until even your kitchen is flooded.

What is my comparison? That an ordinary cold when it enters your system may affect only your nose and mouth—your vestibule. You then check it by appropriate measures.

Should it extend further to your throat you may have tonsillitis or laryngitis. From throat also it may go up to middle ear.

Extending further to your bronchial tubes you would have bronchitis, and then extending to the little tubes that really form your lungs, you would have what is called pneumonia.

The same floor that is in your vestibule extends on the same level right through to your kitchen, nothing to stop the water getting to the kitchen, except that the quantity might not be sufficient to reach it. Similarly the extent of the "cold" you get may not be sufficient to keep travelling all the way down to the lungs. Sometimes your cold begins directly in the bronchial tubes.

But you can readily see that it is not really a hard proposition for it to go along the floor or tube right to the smallest of the little tubes that form the lungs.

Further that cold irritates the lining all the way, and juices are poured out which you cough or spit out as fast as they are formed. Now up in the nose and throat there is plenty of room for these juices. There is also considerable room in the bronchial tubes, and they do not usually get plugged up by the excessive amount, or thickness of the juices when you have bronchitis.

But down in the little tiny tubes that form the lungs, the juice is so thick and has so far to come to get out, that these little tubes get actually blocked up and a whole section of your lung will become solid—This is pneumonia.

Fortunately there is usually enough lung surface besides this to take care of the needs of your body, and if the heart is sound you'll come through all right.

Nine out of ten people recover from pneumonia usually. So watch a cold. Try and keep it from extending beyond the nose and throat. Your best protection from a cold is not to overeat, and to keep your intestine in good condition.

HOW

TO REDUCE YOUR BILL FOR GAS 25 TO 50 PER CENT.—Would you like to cut your gas bills from 25 to 50 per cent?

Look, then, to your kitchen gas range, advises Dr. Mina C. Denton, assistant chief of the office of home economics, United States Department of Agriculture.

These are the rules which Doctor Denton has framed: Turn the air adjustment device so that a blue flame is produced.

Use a burner of a size that will not permit the flames to lick around the edges of your pot or pan.

See that your burners are not more than one to one and a half inches below the bottom of the pan.

Be sure that burners are clean and jets kept open.

When food has begun to cook, turn down the flame, or remove the pot or pan to the simmering burner.

Be sure that your oven is airtight, and whenever possible bake at a low temperature.—Popular Science Monthly.

TONGUE FAST AS LIGHTNING

How the Chameleon Traps Various Insects in the Flash of an Eye.

The chameleon, as every one knows, has a wonderful way of changing its color to suit its surroundings, but scientists all agree that the most remarkable thing about it is its tongue. This can only be seen properly when in use.

The length of the chameleon's tongue is astonishing. When out to its full extent it is of exactly the same length as the chameleon itself, yet, when not in use, it can be packed away neatly inside the mouth. It is somewhat club-shaped, widening out towards the tip, which is covered with a sticky substance.

When attacking its prey the chameleon creeps forward stealthily, its movements being almost imperceptible. When six or seven inches from the hunter stops and, after fixing the prey with its eye, to be sure of its aim and range, cautiously opens its mouth. Out shoots its tongue, and is drawn back into its mouth with the victim sticking to the tip. The whole operation is carried out at lightning speed.

The chameleon is an insect eater and quite an expert in catching flies, butterflies, moths and even grasshoppers. Its enormous eyes are so set in their sockets that they can be rolled in all directions, acting independently of each other. The eyeballs are conical in shape, which greatly adds to the quaint appearance of the animal.

Its habit of changing color is well known. This change is partly voluntary and partly a response to heat and cold, light and shade. The normal daylight color is greenish, with brown spots. This makes the chameleon almost invisible in the shrubberies in which it usually lives.

It is very inactive when on the ground. This is due to the peculiar shape of the foot, the toes of which are tied together into two bundles on each foot. They are formed thus to enable it to maintain a secure hold on the branches of trees. Its movements are ungainly, and it walks in a slow, deliberate way that is particularly exasperating to watch. In fact, all its activity seems concentrated in its tongue.—London Answers.

How Moles Live.
The American Museum of Natural History offered a prize of $25 for a nest which would show how the mole lives, and several were forthcoming. Dr. F. A. Lucas, director of the museum, said accurate information hitherto not available to scientists, had been secured. "This is the first authentic information about a mole's nesting habits that I know of," he said, "and as far as I know the groups which we can make out of our specimens will be the first in any American museum. I had been unable to find anyone who knew anything about the family life of a mole until I received the accurate information of the finders of the nests we now have." Doctor Lucas plans to use the newspapers in further hunts for unusual specimens of animal life. He said that for three years he had been trying to get hold of a family of young raccoons under a month old. In spite of a reward of $100 for such a family he has never been able to get one. He is also after a family of young wolves.—Scientific American.

How Order of the Bath Originated.
The first of the English orders of knighthood is the Order of the Bath, which is supposed to date to the period of the ancient Franks, and to have been introduced into England by the Saxons. The order as at present constituted was instituted by George I, who revived it 108 years ago, May 25, 1725, and fixed the number of knights at 57. In 1815 the prince regent, afterward George IV, greatly increased the membership, and on May 25, 1847, new statutes were decreed, by which the order, hitherto exclusively military, was opened to civilians. The Order of the Bath gained its name from the fact that the ancient Franks and Saxons made bathing an important part of the rites connected with the creation of knights. The order was not formally constituted until 1339.

The World's Finest Saxophone

BECAUSE its tapering tube is expanded to perfect proportions by hydraulic pressure which gives a smooth-as-glass interior, the Conn is easier to play, yields finer tone.

Sockets drawn from the tubing, not soldered, prevent leaks; their rolled edges preserve the pads, which are made over metal rings, sustaining their shape. Patent device enables tuning to finest degree, even while playing.

We can furnish saxophones in various finishes—sopranos, altos, tenors, basses and the popular C melody which enables playing without transposing. Come in and try a Conn; no obligation.

The reports of the activities of the Junior League of Kingston has aroused the interest of this community, notwithstanding the fact that many are unfamiliar with the organization, its history, and its purpose.

The Junior League was started in New York city in 1900, among young women of leisure, whose time, it was felt, could be put to good use in civic work. The organization made itself familiar with conditions in New York city and expended its efforts along lines of civic welfare, it augmented its membership from the debutantes of the city—young women with the leisure time necessary for carrying on this work.

The League supported community centers, clinics, and numerous other philanthropic enterprises—extending its activities as its membership increased. Today there are over sixty Leagues, working in as many cities, all affiliated, but each doing its own work in its community. A national convention is held each year for the purpose of discussing general policies and the work of the individual Leagues. At the last convention held at Detroit, Mich., Kingston was represented by Mrs. C. A. Warren and Miss Ruth Shafer.

The Junior League of Kingston received its Charter in 1922, since when it has been actively engaged in Baby Welfare work. A nurse has been employed by the local League to care for children of the pre-school age. The board of health has co-operated by permitting the League to hold weekly conferences in its rooms at the city hall to which children are brought to the nurse to be weighed and measured as a precautionary step in the prevention of sickness.

Although but recently organized, the Junior League of Kingston has already rendered a most important service to Kingston. Its program for the future is full of worthwhile plans, and it is busily engaged at present in presenting the Thanksgiving Eve dance, the proceeds from which will be used in the furtherance of these projects. The splendid endorsement given the League by Mr. Campbell, who spoke at the Home Club Wednesday—should commend the League strongly to the people of Kingston.

Augustus the Persistent.

"A good story used to be told of Augustus Harris' persistence in securing his engagement at the Royalty. Calling on Bruce one day:

"Do you want a stage manager?" asked Harris.

"No," replied Bruce. "I'm my own stage manager."

"Do you want an acting manager?" "No, I'm my own acting manager."

"Do you want a treasurer?" "No, I'm my own treasurer."

"Do you want an actor?" "No, I don't; for heaven's sake, Gus, go away! Can't you see I'm so busy that I don't know where to turn?"

"Then you want help, I'll stay and help you."

"And he did."—"Myself and Others."

Letting George Do It.

The fence in front of the farmhouse was badly damaged, and it seemed to sensitive Mrs. Dairybutter, the farmer's wife, that all the neighbors were remarking about it as they passed by.

"When are you going to get that fence in the front mended?" she asked her husband.

"Oh, next week," was the reply.

"I'm just waiting for George to come home from college."

"But whatever will the boy know about mending a fence?" she asked in astonishment.

"Well, replied the farmer, "he ought to know a lot. He wrote and told me the other day that he had been taking a lot of fencing lessons this term."

DIVORCE EASY FOR INDIANS

Separation of Married Couple Constituted a Legal Divorce—Upheld by Commissioner.

In the period that the Indians lived as tribal peoples, following their own marriage customs, a separation of a married couple constituted a legal divorce. This is the decision just handed down by Charles H. Burke, Indian commissioner, and is considered as one of great importance that will be followed many times, no doubt, in determining heirship cases among the Poncas, Otoes and other tribes.

The decision came in determining heirs of Chief Little Soldier, who for a long time was prominent in the Ponca tribe. In Nebraska, prior to the tribe coming to their present Oklahoma homes, Little Soldier had taken two sisters as wives, Ella Little Soldier and Henrietta First Moon. The latter retained her maiden name in order to distinguish herself from her sister.

Indian custom permitted Little Soldier to have plural wives.

When a congressional act of March 12, 1887, directed each Ponca possessing more than one wife to pick out his favorite and thus divorce the others, Little Soldier failed to do so. Evidently he liked both sisters too well to choose between them.

The investigation to determine the heirs of Little Soldier started last December before George Hoyt, the superintendent for the Poncas and affiliated tribes, and the findings were sent by him to Commissioner Burke. All the principal figures in the marital mixup now are dead excepting Henrietta First Moon. She claimed the estate as having been his Indian custom wife, whereas Starling White Tail contested her as the son of Albie Eagle White Tail—Kansas City Star.

Hard on the Dog.

As an example of household economy the following should serve as a model to all wives tending to be extravagant: Provided the family got enough to eat at each meal, there should have been no complaint from anyone, with the possible exception of the butcher and the dog.

"Mary?"

"Ma'am."

"What about that ham bone I brought home the other day? Can't you cut a few scraps of meat from it for dinner this evening?"

"I cut off all the meat I could night before last for dinner."

"Well, then, you might tell it this evening. We'll have soup."

"Yes, ma'am, and what do you want me to do with it, then?"

"Tomorrow morning you might see if you can't get enough marrow out of it to grease the griddle for pancakes."

"Yes, ma'am."

"And, Mary, after that you might give it to the dog."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Obedient to a Fault.

"Now John," said his mother, "if any one asked you what part of the chicken you want, what would you say?"

"I don't know."

"You must say you want the place that no one else wants."

So John always remembered that, and one night John was asked out to dinner, and as the host had fried chicken he asked John which part of the chicken would he take.

"I will take some of the feathers," Judge.

FACTORY WORK SHOWS INCREASE

Factory employment went up in October in New York state. There was a gain also in September and the total improvement since August is about two per cent. This statement was issued yesterday by Industrial Commissioner Bernard L. Shientag of the State Department of Labor.

September and October mark the beginning of the busy fall season in manufacturing. Employment goes up in a wide variety of lines for the pre-Christmas trade, and usually remains high through November and into December. The industries affected by this demand range from pianos, silverware and cooking glassware to furs, leather belts and bags, men's neckwear and candy. On the whole, employment in these industries was higher this October than it was a year ago.

Important increases were noticeable this month in many of the metal trades, where employment is much higher than a year ago, and in the chemical industries. Increases in these lines are particularly significant because they are more closely related to the general movements of business than to the immediate season. Reductions in working forces or in working time are being reported in establishments in various lines. But in most industries they are more than offset by rising employment in other plants in the same industry.

The usual seasonal increases occurred in most of the clothing and most of the food products industries. The textile industries were practically all more active than in September. The plants making builders' supplies show a very small reduction in employment for this season.

The most important fact about the situation in October was that the decreases were so few. There was a further slowing up in the paper mills both because of low water and because of a lessened demand for paper. Several of the brass and copper mills reported small decreases in their working forces and the factories making automobiles and equipment went down somewhat further. A markedly early and extensive seasonal closing was noticeable in the factories making felt hats this year, although activity continued high through October a year ago. The other declines were seasonal, except that due to a strike in the cut-stone yards.

POTATO IMPROVEMENT STUDIED.

Hill Selection Method Has Limitation—Advocated for Farm.

The New York State Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva reports an interesting experiment in which a large number of pairs of potato plants from similar halves of the same seed tubers were grown under as nearly the same conditions as possible, and the yields of the two halves of the same seed potato compared in an effort to determine how effective is the hill selection of seed tubers in potato improvement. Such wide differences in yield were observed between the halves of the same tuber, which would ordinarily be expected to be quite similar, that the station potato specialist regards the improvement of potatoes by hill selection as having serious limitations.

The yield of plants from similar halves of the same seed tuber planted side by side in continuous rows and receiving exactly the same care were found to vary from 0 to 141.8 per cent of the average yield of the two plants of the pair, the average difference being 23.4 per cent. It is pointed out that according to these results, it is apparently impossible to grow a pair of potato plants in such a way as to secure even approximately equal yields from them; and, since this is a most important consideration in measuring the capacity of different lots of potatoes for improvement by selecting high yielding hills, it is concluded that this method of potato improvement cannot be carried to a high degree of perfection. The causes of the wide differences observed are not fully understood, but an unequal number of stalks per plant is known to be an important factor.

"The capacity of potato plants for tuber production is masked to a large extent," says the station specialist, "by the effects of various environmental factors which affect the growth of the plants. This makes it very difficult to detect the best producers. The plants which show the largest yield are not always those having the greatest capacity for production. Consequently, the improvement of potatoes by hill selection cannot be carried to a high degree of perfection."

"The usual farm practice of selecting tubers for seed from the best yielding hills should not be affected by these findings as they are of interest primarily to the expert or to those attempting to develop improved strains of potatoes. Selecting seed potatoes from high yielding hills has been thoroughly demonstrated as a satisfactory method for maintaining high yields."

CASTE RULES INDIA SCHOOLS

"Untouchable" Children Are Not Permitted to Mingle With Their "Bettors" There.

The public school as we know it is hardly a possibility in India, because the children of India are not permitted to enjoy anything that remotely resembles free association.

There are a great many such schools, to be sure; but the children who attend them are either caste equals or they are held to the strict observance of caste regulations.

The children of the depressed classes are not allowed to enter anywhere, says Eleanor F. Egan in the Saturday Evening Post, and I myself have seen numbers of them in groups—eager, intelligent and sadly conscious of their disabilities—squatting on schoolhouse verandas, absorbing such instruction as they could get through open windows and schoolhouse doors. None could by any chance cross a schoolroom threshold.

Yet in one way, and as far as the advantages go, the depressed classes enjoy better educational advantages than any class in India, because it is to them that the Christian missionaries devote their particular attention.

It is to be understood, of course, that the communities and castes are all mixed up in the general population, and are not, except in occasional instances, domiciled on musse in separate areas. A Hindu and a Mohammedan may live in adjoining houses; but it is just that they may not borrow each other's frying pans, so to speak.

The castes and the communities may all enjoy a certain measure of social intercourse; they may meet together and talk and argue and do—the British raj in unison if they are so minded—and this is what they have been doing to an increasing extent during the past few years—but it must all be in the open places of public assembly.

It is the habitation that is inviolable; the person that must be guarded against pollution.

MAKING PAPER FROM ASPENS

Industry Suggested for Utah, Which Has About 100,000 Acres of Those Trees.

In Utah the manufacture of paper from aspens is no new idea, as some of the pioneers in that state produced a fair grade of paper from wood pulp and rags suitable for news print. From time to time the shortage of paper supply has brought attention to the possibilities of employing the quaking aspen trees of Utah for reduction to pulp for paper manufacture.

Now there are approximately 100,000 acres of the slopes in northern and central Utah. Their usefulness consists of serving as a cover for young evergreens, and to a certain extent they aid in controlling the flow of streams, and for that reason are conserved by foresters. The timber is soft and not of value commercially, and without denuding the aspen areas the mature trees, it is averred, would furnish sufficient annual paper supply for the entire West. The trees grow rapidly, maturing at twenty to forty years of age on the gentler slopes and in flat regions, where they could be easily and cheaply gathered for the pulp mills. Only trees three inches or more in diameter would be taken.

Not Interested.
"It says in the paper here," began Mrs. Johnson in the midst of her reading, "that an airplane traveling at the rate of two hundred miles an hour would take fifty-three years to go from the earth to the sun."

"What's that?" returned Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, aroused from a doze.

"You wasn't listening, torment!" It would take an airplane going at two hundred miles an hour fifty-three years to reach the sun."

"What's the difference? You ain't aiming to go there, are you?"—Kansas City Star.

Wouldn't Commit Himself.
Numerous ladies now study law, are admitted to practice and become ornaments of the bar. A Supreme court judge met one of the youngest in the corridor of a public building. He bowed and paused to remark: "You are the prettiest lawyer I ever saw, and I may add, one of the best."

She thanked him and passed on. "Which compliment did you prefer?" asked a friend who had overheard.

But the lady, being a good lawyer as well as a pretty girl, refused to commit herself.

Hattonchattel Rebuilt.
Hattonchattel, one of the most picturesque villages in France, held by the Germans for four years, and later captured by American troops, has been rebuilt by Miss Belle Skinner, a wealthy resident of Holyoke, Mass.

The place has a new town hall, with a school, a new library and—a thing unknown before in the long history of the village—a water supply system, as well as a monument to the war dead.

DRY LEAGUE MUST FILE ACCOUNTS

The New York State Anti-Saloon League on Thursday held a "political committee" by the appellate division, third department, and as such must file a list of its expenditures and receipts for the 1922 election.

The decision was unanimous and the league carries its fight to the court of appeals. It must secure permission from the appellate division.

Today's decision upheld a decision handed down last spring by Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley of Albany.

The action to compel the league to file its campaign expenditures and receipts with the secretary of state, the same as any other political organization, was started by a group of Troy citizens. The Trojans were represented by Colonel R. H. Gillette, counsel to the Association Opposed to Prohibition.

The fight against the league was bitterly contested by William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the league, through former Senator Edgar T. Brackett of Saratoga Springs, as counsel.

The appellate division held the league a "political committee" as defined by section 320 of the state election law.

State Superintendent Anderson, at the time of the trial before Justice Staley, denied the league was a political committee, but admitted it worked in cooperation with churches to elect legislators who favored prohibition.

If the appellate division refuses to appeal the league will be forced to file immediately a list of its expenditures and receipts for the 1922 election.

DAILY PROFITS COME FROM CUTTING COSTS.
Economy in Production as Well as Increased Prices Included.

One way to make more money in dairymaking is through economy in production. It may be as important a way as through increased returns for the product. This is the opinion of many men who are closely in touch with the dairy situation in New York state.

It was pointed out at the state agricultural college at Ithaca this week that during the last quarter of a century there has been a notable increase in the production of corn silage as a feed for dairy cattle.

The college experts say that the most encouraging sign is the use of corn silage as a feed for dairy cattle. This is the basis for the most economical ration for New York.

The growing of grain mixtures for feeding, such as oats and peas or oats and barley is also said to make for economy in production. Careful tests have shown that the yield per acre is increased when these mixtures are sown, over the yields when only a single grain is grown by itself. The dairy farmer who can grow small grain mixtures containing Canada field peas and alfalfa and corn silage, and who also has his own farm nearly all the nutrients necessary for a good dairy ration.

The study of one farm where this practice was followed showed that in building up his ration this dairyman had to use only one pound of purchased feed, in the form of oil meal, to meet the standard requirements for maintenance and the production of forty pounds of 4 per cent milk.

Each sister is requested to bring something edible that may be used as refreshments later in the evening. This is to be a very important meeting as the plans for the burning of the mortgage will be completed.

Ulster County Pomona Grange will hold its December meeting at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall Friday, December 7.

St. Louis, Mo.—Four days after his motorcar ran over and killed a little boy, Edward J. Wagoner, of St. Louis, shot and killed himself.

ADOPTS EIGHT CHILDREN, FORGETS TWO OF HIS OWN

Divorced Wife Says Chicagoan Was Great on Promises and in Arrears on Alimony.

Chicago.—Charles G. Strauss of 1238 North La Salle street, acclaimed a hero when he appeared before Judge Edmund K. Jarecki to adopt eight children and cited by the judge himself as an exemplar of humanitarian virtues, was described differently by Mrs. Melie Strauss, his divorced wife.

When he applied for adoption papers, Mr. Strauss did not mention Mrs. Strauss, who conducts a boarding-house at 2234 Jackson boulevard. They have been divorced four years.

"He should be adopting children," said Mrs. Strauss. "He's got two of his own that I've been supporting—Carl, fourteen, and Margaret, twelve. The court instructed him to pay me $50 a month alimony and he's in arrears almost a year."

Mrs. Strauss has had her attorney, Richard C. Belts of 79 West Monroe street, file action against her husband. She appeared before Judge Harry M. Fisher and signed a complaint concerning the non-payment of alimony.

"He was always great on promises," she said. "He painted beautiful pictures of a home, an automobile and servants, but all he has ever done so far is to owe me money."

Women Convicts Vie for Beauty Honors in Prison

San Francisco.—Rivalry among the beauties slopping for a period of from ten years to life at San Quentin penitentiary is causing more or less concern to the prison authorities.

The prison regulations allow women prisoners to receive such cosmetics as are considered necessary by modern women. The modern women on the "outside" haven't anything on the modern women prisoners in the care of Warden James A. Johnston. All of the necessities for beauty required on the outside are all necessary for those on the "inside," according to the orders checked over daily by the warden.

The arrival of Clara Phillips, the "hammer slayer," and a rivalry as to whether she or Mrs. Louise Peete would be declared the most beautiful murderess in the prison, gave fresh impetus to the demand for beauty preparations.

The fifty-two women prisoners are keenly interested in all the latest processes for preserving youth and beauty, but their supply of these "necessities" is more or less curtailed by prison regulations.

Market and Washington streets are completed as well as nearly all other approaches to the city. Poughkeepsie has now opened its streets to our friends who live outside of the city, after completing some of the most wonderful improvements ever attempted before, in a city of our size.

A Word About Civic Improvements.

One of the most expensive civic improvements that has been made in the city of Poughkeepsie, is its new covered reservoir, situated on the top of College Hill, at a higher point than the present reservoir.

This new reservoir will increase the water pressure, twenty pounds and thus protect the property of Poughkeepsie by increased fire protection.

The new reservoir, with its increased pressure, will keep Poughkeepsie in class A among insurance companies, and therefore not raise the rates.

The modern machinery installed at the pumping station on the river, will help the city in its water supply.

The increased pressure from the reservoir necessitated the laying of eight (8) miles of new pipes—4 miles of 24 inch pipe alone and the balance of 8 inch and 12 inch pipes.

Another large improvement in our city is the paving of Main street with asphalt and granite blocks from the river to Cherry street. At the same time this was being done, new tracks were laid over the same ground, which has improved the trolley service considerably.

All these improvements were done at an expense of $1,094,000.00 to the city and trolley company.

A Word About Homes, Hospitals and Mercantile Improvements

We have been informed by the building inspector, that there were a total of 317 new building permits issued this year.

It is interesting to note that there were 44 new homes for one family, and 52 for two families.

From this report it is quite evident that Poughkeepsie is growing considerably in its home building program.

Over 15 new homes were built in the South East Avenue section, which adjoins the city.

150 permits have been granted for additions to dwellings, stores, garages, etc. This building program totals $1,264,784.00.

The new addition to LUCKEY, PLATT & COMPANY'S store is being erected at a cost of $500,000.00.

The new building at Vassar College, to house the faculty, is being built at a cost of $500,000.00. This building, together with the new one constructed last year, will help Vassar College to take care of the faculty outside the campus.

The very large addition to Vassar Brothers Hospital, at a cost of $350,000.00 will make this hospital one of the largest on the river and will be equipped with all the modern appliances.

The large addition to St. Francis Hospital in this city, will help to meet the demands made on this hospital. Its equipment will also be up to date.

A large factory has also been erected on the outskirts of the city for the Corrugated Rubber Company.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

THE AWKWARD AGE

"Cackle, cackle," said young Miss Hen, "I feel sorry for children when they become a certain age."

"Why so?" inquired Red Top, the rooster, "pray tell me why so, young Miss Hen. Cack-a-doodle-do. It would be interesting to know why you feel sorry for children."

"When they become a certain age," said young Miss Hen.

"Well, then, when they become a certain age," Red Top repeated. "I'd like to know why you feel sorry for them at such a time or why you have sympathy for them, or why you will be sorry for them—if you are going to keep on feeling sorry for them."

"And then, too, I'd be interested in hearing what age children must reach in order to have you feel sorry for them."

"Do you suppose they are thankful and pleased that you feel sorry for them at that age? Are they in need of sympathy then?"

"Well," said young Miss Hen, "I will answer all your questions. First of all I feel sorry for children when they reach a certain age because I understand them. In other words I have a fellow feeling for them."

"I don't see," said Red Top, "how a young hen can have a fellow feeling for a lot of children."

"I mean," said young Miss Hen, "that I understand how they feel because I too have had the same feelings."

"Little children are always so much admired. They are thought so cunning and if they're naughty they seem to be very quickly forgiven and they're smiled at almost at all times. They're hugged and loved and made great pets of and everyone thinks they're so sweet and pretty and dear and lovable."

"Then they become a little older. If they're bad they're scolded good and hard. They're not thought nearly so cunning and they're not thought nearly so sweet, nor so lovable, nor so dear, nor are they smiled at almost at all times."

"Sometimes it is said they have reached the awkward age. I do not know what age it is or just when it comes but it is the age between being a little child and a big boy or girl."

"It comes at different times, or at different ages, not always at the same time with everyone. I do not know whether children are thankful and pleased that I have so much sympathy for them at such times or not, but I have at any rate. And the reason for this is, yes, this is the reason why I so thoroughly understand, and I know how they feel when they're not admired as they have been and I know how it makes them feel only more awkward. You see when I was a little chick I was a dear, plump, fuzzy, cunning little thing."

"I had soft yellow down and I was really quite sweet. I realize it now that it has gone from me. Then I became older. I couldn't help it. It was not my fault. And I grew. My shape was awkward and I moved awkwardly. I bumped into anything or ran in a silly way I was called silly, but if I had done the same thing as a little chick I would have been thought a poor, dear, frightened little chicken."

"And as I became older I became more and more awkward and more and more I realized that people thought of me as being a pretty unattractive hen."

"Then I heard some people talking about some children who had grown from babyhood into boyhood and girlhood. They said these children had been so cunning when they had been little but that now they were at the awkward age."

"And I've seen so much of it since—unappreciated children because they're not little and cunning, and it's the same way with hens! The very same way. Ah, it is a great shame!"

"Hens are awkward, too, before they become older, settled hens. They understand how children feel. Ah yes, young hens are sympathetic. They know what it is like to use their dear little chick ways and looks and to be thought so much less attractive and not loved in the same indulgent, affectionate way."

"Now I understand," said Red Top, "and I don't wonder you have a 'fellow feeling,' as you call it, for children."

WHAT TO EAT

Wipe, pare and core six sour apples and arrange them in a baking dish. Mix one-half cupful of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of curry powder and one tablespoonful of melted butter. Fill the cavities with the mixture, pour three-fourths of a cupful of chicken stock into the dish and bake until the apples are soft, basting every six minutes.

Kewick Pudding.—Bring three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and one cupful of water to the boiling point. Beat the yolks of three eggs slightly and add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar and a few grains of salt. Pour on the boiling sirup and cook until the mixture thickens; then add one and one-fourth tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatin soaked in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water, and one-fourth of a cupful of lemon juice. Stir until the mixture thickens. Turn into a mould and chill. Garnish with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

Nut Prune Souffle.—Soak one cupful of prunes in two cupfuls of cold water, then cook in same water until soft. Remove stones and cut prunes into small pieces. To the prune liquor add water to make one and one-half cupfuls; then add one cupful of sugar, two inches of stick cinnamon and the prunes; cook ten minutes. Dilute one-third of a cupful of cornstarch with cold water and add to the mixture. Cook ten minutes. Remove the cinnamon, add whites of two eggs well beaten, one-third of a cupful of broken walnut meats and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Bake in a moderate oven until set. Serve with cream if desired.

Emergency Soup.—Dissolve two and one-half teaspoonfuls of beef extract in three cupfuls of boiling water. Add three tablespoonfuls of milk to one-half tablespoonful of flour to make a paste and add to the first mixture, stirring constantly until boiling point is reached, then boil three minutes; add salt, pepper and cayenne and three-fourths of a cupful of cream.

Why Three Balls Are Used.

The three golden balls were the arms of the Medici family, who, in their early days, in addition to their profession of medicine, were the richest merchants of Florence and the greatest money-lenders. The three balls originated in an exploit of Averdo de Medici, a commander under Charlemagne. This bold warrior slew the giant Myrghello, whose club he bore as a trophy. This mace or club had three iron balls, which the family adopted as a device, only changing the iron into gold. The Lombards, who were the first money-changers in Europe, brought three balls with them. Every one who borrowed money of them left some security in pawn.

Wanted to Know Why.

The newly-appointed stage manager decided that money should be saved as well as art preserved, and on going over the accounts he discovered two shillings a week set aside for meat for eight cats, whose mission was to keep the building clear of rats.

He decided that this was an unnecessary expenditure, and stopped it. Protests were raised, but the note he attached to the order was too logical to be refuted. It ran:

"If the cats eat the rats, why the meat? If they do not eat them, why the cats?"

Citizenship of the World.

Is it not very possible that I may love my own country, without hating the natives of other countries? that I may exert the most heroic bravery, the most undaunted resolution, in defending its laws and liberty, without despising all the rest of the world as cowards and poltroons? Most certainly it is; and if it were not—but why need I suppose what is absolutely impossible? But if I were not, I must own I should prefer the title of the ancient philosopher, viz., a citizen of the world, to that of an Englishman, a Frenchman, an European, or to any other appellation whatever.—Goldsmith.

General C.E. Sawyer.

"Politics and Sawyer" were blamed by Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veterans' Bureau, for the failure of the bureau to carry on its work efficiently under Forbes' direction. Testifying before the Senatorial Investigating Committee in Washington, Colonel Forbes swore Brigadier-General Charles E. Sawyer, of Marion, O., President Harding's personal physician, had so interfered with the bureau that its efficiency was impaired.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Becoming Frock for the Growing Girl.

4497. Youthful lines, and popular style features are expressed in this model. Crepe satin with facings of the satin side and the dress portions of the reversed side, is here pictured. This is a pretty style for voile and organdy. It may also be developed in one material with embroidery or braid for decoration.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. A 14 year size requires 4 3/4 yards of 40 inch material. Without tunic, bertha and cuffs 1 1/2 yard less is required. To trim with contrasting material as illustrated requires 1 1/2 yard 40 inches wide.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns, which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 12c FOR EACH pattern in silver or stamps by the Freeman Pattern Department, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Canal Gave Impetus to Rails.

The opening of the Erie canal, which cheapened transportation with the Great Lakes and the Western states, was responsible for starting railroads in Massachusetts. In order to protect itself commercially, commercial and industrial Massachusetts felt obliged to do something to offset the advantages New York gained by the completion of the Erie canal, and for some time there was quite a sentiment for public ownership of railroads.

New Crop Diseases.

Fifteen new diseases of field and vegetable crops were reported in the United States during 1922. Twelve crops were affected. They were carrot, radish, Swiss chard, lettuce, potato, radish, Chinese cabbage, bean, watermelon, sweet potato, tomato and tobacco. Most of the new diseases appeared in very restricted areas, seeming to be the result of abnormal climatic and similar conditions.

You probably know that Cod Liver Oil is the greatest flesh producer in the world.

Because it contains more Vitamins than any food you can get. You'll be glad to know that Cod Liver Oil comes in tablets now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of real healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong ask your druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets.

Only 60 cents a box and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist will hand you back all the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days. —Adv.

Now is the time to fight constipation with Bran—Start to-day!

Don't let the diseases that follow in the wake of constipation have a chance to lay in your system. Get after constipation with nature's greatest help—BRAN. Kellogg's Bran, bran flakes and bran cereal—because it is ALL BRAN, and because it will give you permanent relief from constipation. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.

Bran's action is wonderful. It sweeps and cleanses and purifies. It keeps out the dangerous toxic poisons and frees the system from pollution. Try Kellogg's Bran for a week. Eat it regularly—two table-spoons each day; as much each meal in chronic cases. You will be astounded at the difference in your feelings!

Kellogg's Bran should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and difficult to eat. Kellogg's Bran is cooked and all ready to eat, and is really delicious. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled over your favorite cake or cold cereal or cook or mix it with hot cereal. In the latter cases add two table-spoons for each portion.

Do you realize what Kellogg's Bran can do for you and for your family; do you realize that it will keep sickness away; that it will put every one on a new health footing; that it will free you all from pills and cathartics?

Kellogg's Bran is particularly delightful made in raisin bread, in macaroons, popovers, muffins, etc. Recipes are printed on each package!

You will say that Kellogg's Bran is a blessing to humanity.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran!

Information is that these workers are working with surprising success. The many demands are being met. All are working hard and the city will be better canvassed.

All captains are requested to report at headquarters Monday afternoon, November 19, at 1 o'clock the result of the first week's effort.

Not Enough Forest Protection.

Thirty-nine states contain important areas of forest land, but only 27 have organized state forest protection on a more or less adequate scale. Systematic fire protection of privately owned forest lands is sadly lacking.

At least 100,000,000 acres of such land now receive no protection and on many other areas the protection furnished is incomplete and inadequate.

An average expenditure of between two and one-half and three cents an acre, or a total of $2,500,000, would fairly protect all of the privately owned forest land in the United States. The task is at present two-thirds undone.

For Value Received.

A Boston woman relates that during her trip to England she visited a certain place and employed a guide to show her around. After he had explained the principal attractions of the neighborhood she remarked as he handed him his fee: "I trust that what you have told me is absolutely true. I never feel I should pay for untruths."

"Well, ma'am," responded the old fellow, scanning the coin, "truth or untruth, you've had a good shilling's worth."

Better Animals in Canada.

There have been large increases in the number of pure bred animals in Canada during the decade between the last two censuses. The increase in the number of pure bred horses between 1911 and 1921 was 44 per cent; of cattle, 139 per cent; of sheep, 75 per cent, and of swine, nearly 44 per cent. The number of pure bred horses in the Dominion in 1921 was 47,782; cattle, 298,656; sheep, 93,643, and of swine, 51,143.

Growth of Bank Deposits.

A single New York city bank of today carries deposits equalling more than 21 times the total deposits in all the city's banks in 1947. The deposits in New York banks in the year 1847 totaled $28,000,000. These banks carried $11,000,000 of specie and had a circulation of about $7,000,000.

FOSSILS FROM THE ICE AGE

Czech Scientist Discovers Skeletons of Men, Women and Great Variety of Animals.

Skeletons of prehistoric men and women from the ice ages, a mammoth, two lions, a hyena, a wolverine, five cave bears and at least sixty fossil beavers have been found in the vast system of underground passages formed by nature in the limestone rock of central Moravia now being explored by Dr. Karel Absolon, curator of the Brno museum of Czechoslovakia. Dr. Absolon, a member of the United States Smithsonian Institution, will report these discoveries in a communication to the next issue of Science.

The skeletons of many of these mammals of the glacial period of the earth's history are in an excellent state of preservation, he says. The cave bears' remains are almost complete and will be mounted as a group in the Provincial museum at Brno (Brunn), while the teeth and skulls of the beavers are also considered of highest scientific value.

The great subterranean halls, with their numerous columns, stalactite and stalagmite forms, are being energetically explored and are said to rival in beauty the famous caverns in Virginia and Kentucky.

HELD PRISONER IN ICE WELL

Workman Climbs Forty Feet and Then Falls Back When Pegs Give Way.

SAVED HOURS LATER

Chatterbury, England.—A remarkable adventure befell Frederick Tuff, a workman on the Chatham castle estate, near here. He fell into a disused ice well, from which he tried in vain to escape by means of a ladder of pegs, and remained a prisoner for 26 hours.

Tuff had heard fellow workers talk of the well and on his way home from work he decided suddenly to investigate it. He pushed open a door, walked along a passage and in the darkness stepped over the sill and fell to the bottom, a distance of 20 feet, amid a shower of bricks, bruised, but not much hurt.

Climbs Up With Pegs.

Shouting failed to attract help, and he tried to make his own way to safety.

"I found some bits of board on the well bottom," he said, "and shaped six pegs. Then I dug holes with my knife in the cement between the wall bricks and pushed the pegs into them."

Each Ho's Took About Half an Hour to Make.

Each hole took about half an hour to make.

"When I got half way up I found I had not got enough pegs. I came down again and tied strings to the lower pegs, and then as I went up pulled them out behind me to use higher up."

"I had got almost to the top when the peg I was standing on gave way and let me down. After that I gave up. At the time I could hear a cricket match being played in the field outside and children playing round about."

Rescued by Brother-in-Law.
"I could make nobody hear." (It seems that Tuff's shouts were heard, but nobody could discover where they came from.) "I cleared the tons that were in the well down a drain to have the place to myself and tried to go to sleep. It was very cold and uncomfortable, but I slept fairly well. I heard twelve and four o'clock strike, and then nothing until the church bells woke me."

"Just before two p. m. I heard my brother-in-law shouting, and I answered. He then found me and fetched a ladder and got me out. I walked two miles home to Shottenden and had a jolly good dinner."

Girl Makes Three Futile Attempts to Take Her Life

Atlanta, Ga.—After three attempts to end her life, all of which failed, Maggie Bedford, fourteen years old, is in jail for examination.

The girl tried to kill herself by jumping from a window in her home, by cutting herself with a knife, and by hanging herself. Doctors believe she is insane.

Train Ended the Quarrel.

Washington, Ind. Two automobiles collided on the railroad tracks near Washington. While the drivers were arguing about whose was the fault, a train sped down the track and knocked the two cars to splinters.

Woman Fined $5 for Kissing a Horse.
London.—Accused of kissing a horse on the street, a woman was fined $5 in London, England. The woman pleaded that she did no wrong, but she was intoxicated, and the fine was permitted to stand.

Falls Six Inches and Breaks Leg.
Olean, N. Y.—Falling about six inches while hanging to a swinging ring in a park here, Dr. H. L. Whipple of Olean, N. Y., suffered two fractures of the right leg.

Folly.

Many of us are too constructive. We have no affection for human nature as it is nor wish to cherish it, but to rebuild it from the ground up.—Folly.

M. Kerley 33 E. StrandHigh Shoes for Ladies

Many ladies are buying at least one pair of High Shoes for winter wear as they know that High Shoes give them better protection from damp and cold weather than Pumps and Oxfords, while other ladies realize that the wearing of High Shoes keeps the ankles slim and shapely while the constant wearing of low shoes has the opposite effect.

Our assortment of High Shoes for ladies is large enough to insure perfect comfort and pleasing appearance, and the prices are surprisingly low considering the high quality.

We are discontinuing several lines of Boys' Good Wearing Shoes, and are now offering some wonderful values at $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 a pair.

CHURCH IS EIGHT YEARS OLD SUNDAY

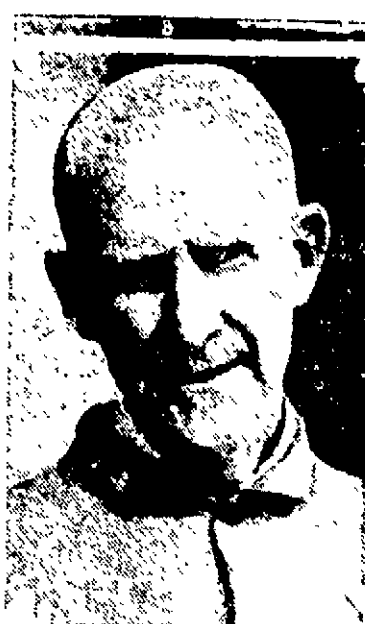

Ponckhockie Congregationalists Will Celebrate by Dedication Memorial Windows and Other Gifts.

On Sunday the Congregational Church of Ponckhockie will observe the eighth anniversary of its organization. The church has been re-decorated and ten memorial windows placed in the auditorium. About a year ago new pews were installed and other improvements made. Recently the Y. P. S. C. E. gave three electric light domes which greatly improve the lighting of the church. Mrs. Ira Wood has given a pulpit in memory of her late husband, Miss Mary Basten and sister, Mrs. Minnie Squires of Detroit, presented the congregation with a hymn board. At the morning service, these will be dedicated. An invitation is extended to the public and especially to all who in the past years were members of the Sunday school. The following are the inscriptions on the windows and the persons who gave them: "Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staples, Sr." given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. DuBois; "John R. Tammany," Mrs. John R. Tammany and family; "Charles M. King, 1829-1889," Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. King; "Mrs. Isabella Gill," Walter N. and Arthur Gill; "Mrs. Barbara Drautz," Mrs. John B. Osterhout; "Mrs. William Gokey," Mrs. William Gokey; "John N. Cordis," Mrs. John N. Cordis; "Schmitt," Miss Sadie Schmitt; "Charles T. Ashby," Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ashby; "The Ladies' Aid," Ladies' Aid Society.

Young and Inexperienced.
When I was a bride I went into a shop to purchase socks for my husband. I was young and unaccustomed to buying men's wear, and was at a loss when the salesman inquired what size I wanted.
I didn't have the slightest idea, but suddenly I said, "I don't remember what size his socks are, but he wears a number fifteen collar."
The clerk and all other people in the shop burst out laughing.—Exchange.

A Helpful Hint.
"I don't know what in the thunderation is the matter with my wife!" grumbled Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "She's everlastingly asking me for money to buy a new dress with or a bunnet, or some such fool thing."
"Might try giving her a little money some time, and see if it would make a plumb fool of her," suggested an acquaintance.—Kansas City Star.

Alone in That Respect.
A traveler in the West some years ago observed a well-executed portrait on the wall of a dark room in a cabin and asked whose picture it was. "That's my husband," said the woman of the house, carelessly. "But it is hung with fatal effect," urged the artist. "So was my husband," snapped the woman.

CAREER OF STEINMETZ AN INSPIRATION IN PLUCK

By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift

Is it through pull, luck or mere chance that men reach positions of great responsibility and usefulness in America today?

This question, the answer to which should seem perfectly self-evident, is worthy of attention by all who are especially interested in giving encouragement to our young men and young women.

It is a fact that many are discouraged on the threshold of active life because they believe luck and pull and mere accident have much to do with success.

There recently passed away a great man; a genius, we venture to assert, whose career was a striking example of what can be done through sheer pluck and ambition. The man was Charles Proteus Steinmetz, whose achievements as a scientist, specializing particularly in electrical research and experiments, give him a place among the truly great men of this nation. But Steinmetz came to this country thirty years ago with almost every possible handicap. Weak and deformed physically, destitute of money, with no friends or position, his outlook was indeed anything but promising. But he disregarded the drawbacks, set his face firmly toward the future and became one of the most useful men of our day.

He was successful, not from the standpoint of personal financial strength or political power, but because of his usefulness to humanity, which is the only standard of true success worthy of recognition.

The career of this man, a weakling physically, a giant in vision and intellect, should prove an inspiration to the youth of our country.

It is not pull, it is not luck, it is not mere circumstance that brings success.

It is pluck, thrift of time, thrift of opportunity, ambition, character, intelligent effort. No one can truly succeed without these. With them any youth can succeed, regardless of pull or the caprices of fortune.

Lots of Room There.

By deducing responsibility, it is no trouble to get to the bottom, where there is so little room and such poor pay.

Not Always.

A man is not always known by the company he associates with—as the company sometimes discovers to its cost.

VISIBILITY A LARGE FACTOR

Dusty or Misty Atmosphere Means a Great Deal in Aviation and Navigation.

Visibility is a large factor in air flight and in various surface operations, especially navigation. A knowledge of conditions governing visibility is therefore of considerable importance. Dustiness or mistiness may be due to incomplete combustion of coal or other fuels, seen as smoke at lower levels. Some dust particles come from volcanoes. Some, it is thought, may come from interplanetary spaces. The weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture was provided with an instrument for measuring atmospheric dust in May, 1922. A dust count has been taken daily during the last year. The dust counter used collects the dust from a known volume of air and deposits it on a small and very thin glass disk, where by means of a powerful microscope the particles can be counted and their character determined. Tests have shown about 90 dust particles a cubic centimeter on a very clear, dry day, and as high as 933 a cubic centimeter on one day of limited visibility, but with the same dry condition of the air, which prevailed on the former occasion.

Electricity Thaws Meat.

Frozen beef or mutton has been difficult to handle hitherto because of the care required to thaw it after shipment. Days were needed to defrost it properly, and during the process much of the meat was lost. If the defrosting was hurried, the meat lost its flavor.

A new method, whereby an alternating current of electricity is passed through the meat, promises material help for the packing industry. By the use of electric current an entire beef carcass can be defrosted in an hour, without deterioration and without impairing the keeping qualities of the meat.

This process is expected to be of particular value on shipboard, where it is most desirable to keep fresh meat frozen, but where, until now, slow thawing has prevented its wider use.

Too Much to Expect.

"You are a man of courtesy," "I try to be," answered Senator Sordum.

"What would you do if a woman were to be the opposing candidate?" "You've got to draw the line somewhere. I'd give up my seat to a lady in a street car, but not in the United States senate."

Wool Growing Is Declining.

The production of sheep for wool alone is rapidly on the wane in the United States. More and more emphasis is being placed on the production of lamb and mutton for the table, although only 3.7 per cent of the meat consumed by the average American for the last five years was lamb or mutton.

Qualified.

"We want a man for our information bureau," said the manager. "He must be a wide-awake fellow and accustomed to complaints." "That's me," replied the applicant. "I'm the father of twins."—Cornell Widow.

Credit for Their Service.

World war veterans, applying for positions with the government, are allowed five points in the civil service examinations, while disabled ex-service men are given a credit of ten points.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to all the kind friends and neighbors who showed such sympathy and kindness to us in the recent death of our darling infant son, Everett John Van Kleeck, and also for the many beautiful floral tributes.

Signed,
MR. AND MRS. EVERETT VAN KLEECK.

JAIL DELIVERY FOILED BY DOG

Canine Attacks Prisoners When They Overpower Deputy Sheriff.

REWARDED WITH STEAK

Youngstown, O.—It has been truthfully stated that a dog is man's most faithful friend. Deputy Sheriff George Callahan of Mahoning county has reason to vouch for the truth of the statement.

Paul Lyden, a Republican, was elected to the office of sheriff in 1921, assuming office on January 1, 1922.

He is a great lover of the canine family, and when a friend presented him with a police dog puppy early in 1922 Paul immediately naturalized him by naming him after his Republican idol, Theodore Roosevelt, and soon "Teddy" was a real deputy sheriff, although not on the pay roll.

The dog was quickly taught to keep watch on prisoners; to make friends with no one other than company selected by the sheriff, said company, of course including the various deputies about the jail.

On the night of September 17, Deputy Sheriff George Callahan went into the jail to check his prisoners and see that they were locked up for the night. He had no sooner entered the cell block than he was set upon by seven colored prisoners, three of whom were awaiting trial for grave offenses. Fortunately he left the outside door open, something that he rarely had done previously. The prisoners grabbed him and attempted to take his keys and weapons from him. He put up a battle, but was rapidly getting the worst of the scrimmage against the heavy odds.

Dog Attacks Ringleader. "Teddy" who was reclining on a rug in the sheriff's office had heard the sound of the scuffle. He ran into the cell room, and sizing up the situation,

Went Into Action.

Went into action. He grabbed Floyd Barrett, charged with assault, and the ringleader of the mutiny, by the right forearm and dragged him off Callahan, and then returned to the fight and seized Clem Head, charged with murder, by the leg and pulled him to the ground. The other mutineers then became alarmed and fled to their cells. "Teddy" then for the first time barked, as much as to say, "Come on, all of you," but the challenge was not accepted.

After seeing that his prisoners were secure for the night, Callahan patched up his bruises with articles in the sheriff's first-aid kit, called to "Teddy" to accompany him, and told Deputy Lamont Jacobs that he and "Teddy" were going for a walk.

"Teddy" refused to tell where the stroll took Callahan and himself, but there is a persistent rumor that it led to a restaurant a short distance from the county jail, and that the deputy bribed "Teddy" to remain his faithful friend. At least he was seen to pay for a T-bone steak, while he dined on coffee and.

When Sheriff Lyden returned from Columbus, where he had gone to commit a prisoner to the penitentiary, he rewarded his faithful canine with a brand new collar.

Battles Forty Officers;

Afraid of Little Wife

Chicago.—It took 40 policemen to subdue Morrow Harding, when he was arrested for mental observation. "Save me, judge," the man cried in terror when his slim little wife appeared in court.

Mrs. Harding was forced to leave the court room before her husband, who is six feet six inches tall, could be convinced he was safe.

Hazing Causes Youth's Suicide.

New Salem, Ind.—After being hazed by fellow high school students, Vernon A. Walke, sixteen years old, committed suicide. Brooding over the hazing caused the act, the boy's parents said. Police have begun an investigation.

Nothing New.

Reading in old histories we learn that Europe was several times "in a state of chaos." It's nothing new.

Must Reform Self.

You never get a man much reformed who didn't make the plans and specifications for the work himself.

"Sells" Plane, Then Flies Away in It

Oklahoma City, Okla.—A bandit who stole an airplane and then "sold" it for $1,200 is being sought by police of this city. After "selling" the plane in Oklahoma City, the man offered to give a demonstration in it. He disappeared into the clouds with the money and the machine. He gave the name of H. H. Tarbuton to the "punch-chaser," police said.

CONVICT IN GIRL'S GARB TRIES TO FLEE PRISON

Warden of Nebraska Penitentiary Notices "Visitor" Needs Shave and Grabs "Her."

Lincoln, Neb.—Faultlessly dressed in feminine garb, Otto Cole, lifer at the Nebraska state penitentiary, attempted to escape by casually walking out with the visitors, who had been permitted to inspect the institution. So clever was the convict's masquerade that he passed several guards before being detected by Deputy Warden Kavanaugh, who was stationed near the outer gate.

As the visitors were leaving the prison confines, Warden Kavanaugh's attention was attracted to a woman member whose actions, he thought strange and whom he could not recall as having entered. Edging closer to obtain a better view the warden was startled by seeing the telltale growth of beard under a liberal veneer of face powder and rouge. Immediately several guards quietly guided her out of the crowd.

Cole was sentenced to life imprisonment from Omaha on April 21, 1922, for the alleged murder of an Omaha pawnbroker following a quarrel over a watch. Cole was known to Omaha police as Immune Eddie English of Chicago because of his ability to evade arrest.

The feminine clothing of his disguise had been designed and made by himself from various remnants obtained from prison stock, his brown silk hose being the sleeves of a discarded silk jersey.

Nine-Year-Old Girl

Eligible to Teach

New York.—Qualified to teach in the schools of Los Angeles, Cal., Miss Elizabeth Benson, nine years old, has arrived in this city to enter high school as a freshman. Miss Benson, it is admitted, is the queen of all the infant prodigies.

Elizabeth was given a mentality test in Los Angeles last year. She made a mark of 214, the highest ever recorded. She cannot be tested further for she broke the scale. The previous high record was 136. Under a test given teachers in the Los Angeles schools, Elizabeth made a mark of 86, as against an average of 87.5 for the 604 teachers who took part, making her mentally capable of teaching in a city high school.

Strangest of all, the child's mother says, is that Elizabeth hates to study. She never takes a book home from school for overtime work, and seldom is seen studying in school. She reads all the time, however.

Unlike the popular idea of a prodigy, Elizabeth is no "queer" child. She is, and always has been, in perfect health, plump, even tempered, and absolutely without self-consciousness.

Divorced Wife Too Young to Remarry Her Husband

St. Clairsville, O.—Married at eighteen, mother of an eighteen-month-old son, divorced, and still too young to marry. That is the position of Mrs. Bertha Sayre of this city. Mrs. Sayre and her husband, divorced a year ago, decided to remarry. The wife was told she would have to obtain her parents' consent before a license could be issued.

Kills Lost Sweetheart.

Ogdensburg, N. Y.—When she returned her engagement ring to him, Miss Alberta Stokes, of this city, was shot and killed by Harold Harrington, her lover. Harrington, when he saw the girl dead, blew off his head with a shotgun.

Girl 13, Kills Self When Kept Home.

Hamilton, O.—Because her mother refused to permit her to attend a moving picture show in a neighboring town, thirteen-year-old Romilda Wood of Hamilton committed suicide with her father's revolver.

Bursting Meteor Blinds Sailor.

New York.—The bursting of a meteor, which blinded the second officer for five minutes, was reported on the log of the Orbita. All the air was filled with a pale green light when the meteor burst.

Rides Fish, Beats It to Death.

Vancouver, Wash.—T. H. Wilson, eighty, of Hazeldean while fishing near here recently, leaped astride a 27-pound salmon and beat it to death with a board, he reported here.

Boy Held for Cracking Safe.

Omaha, Neb.—Accused of helping to rob the safe in a store at Red Oak, Iowa, ten-year-old "Billy" Yates is in jail here.

It Would Be Startling.

It might be startling to see the government run as a carefully and economically as a well-mannered railroad.

A Small Boy.

It doesn't occur to a small boy that a ring doesn't decorate an unwashed hand.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Nov. 16.—Irregularity marked trading at the opening of the stock exchange today. Price changes were fractional, except in Davison Chemical, which rose 2 points to 62½ and Jones Tea, which lost over 1 point to 28.

Irregularity characterized the foreign trading. Price movements were influenced by the fresh decline in the foreign exchange market. The trend was toward slightly lower levels, while speculative energy was focused on a few individual stocks.

The reactionary movement made further headway in the afternoon trading, but the market did not display any signs of real weakness, nor was there any heavy pressure to sell.

COOLIDGE URGES OBSERVANCE OF GOLDEN RULE DAY DEC. 2nd

October 26.

Dear Mr. Butler,
121 Fifth Avenue,
New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

It is with a good deal of satisfaction that I learned your proposal to observe an International Golden Rule Day on Sunday, December 2nd, as the second of December, 1923. I feel sure that this suggestion will meet with very widespread approval and will bring more closely to mind the charitable requirements of those who are prosperous to those who are in adversity. It suggests not only a practical method for help, but the highest expression of sympathy by sharing for a time the privations of others.

Sincerely yours,
Calvin Coolidge

Exhibit of President Coolidge's Letter Urging Observance of Golden Rule Sunday.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has written to the Near East Relief headquarters in New York commending the idea of International Golden Rule Day to be observed all over the world on Sunday, December 2nd, as a means of providing food for the orphans in the Near East and urging the widespread observance of the day, both as a practical method of help and as an expression of international goodwill.

The President's letter, a facsimile of which is reproduced above, said in part: "I feel sure that this suggestion will meet with very widespread approval and will bring more closely to mind the charitable requirements of those who are prosperous to those who are in adversity. It suggests not only a practical method of help, but the highest expression of sympathy by sharing for a time the privations of others."

Golden Rule Day will be observed simultaneously in fourteen different nations on December 2nd. On this day people are asked to forego their usual more or less elaborate Sunday dinner and eat instead a meal approximately the same as that served to the orphans in the care of the Near East Relief and contribute the difference in the cost of the two menus to the support of these orphans.

In this country the movement is sponsored by the Near East Relief and contributions will be made through it. Other countries will co-operate in the same way through their own national relief organizations.

Details as to the proper sort of food to serve on Golden Rule Day may be obtained by writing to the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or the nearest state office of the relief organization.

DR. FITE WOULD PRESERVE PEACE

By Means of World Court—Law Against War, Universal Disarmament and Ban on Arms Manufacture.

Before beginning his lecture on Thursday afternoon, at the chapel of the First Dutch Church, Dr. Emerson Fite of Vassar announced that next week he would speak on "The Achievements of the League of Nations." Then about the second of December, the centennial of the Monroe Doctrine, he would consider that document. This week, Dr. Fite spoke on the "Substitutes for War," which was particularly appropriate inasmuch as all competitors for the Bok Peace Prize have to be submitted by the fifteenth, and for some time now, public prints will be more or less occupied with a discussion of the peace possibility.

Dr. Fite said that if the Spanish-American War set the door ajar for American participation in world politics, the World War threw it wide open. Today we are discussing world politics like Englishmen, although England has been dealing in world politics since the time of Queen Elizabeth, some three hundred years ago. One of the most hopeful signs of the times is that this biggest, richest nation has thrown off its isolation and is at last willing to discuss world affairs. While many of us have a partisan preference for some special program of world politics which we will be disappointed not to see succeed, still discussion goes on and some good action must finally come as the result of the discussing.

Dr. Fite said that Lord Birkenhead of England who was here last summer and who had caused no small disturbance by his remarks thought it nonsense to think that we can ever stop war. He made fun of the League of Nations and considered the advocates of the league impractical dreamers. The trouble was that he was a theorist, but his theory and ideal is war. He thinks there can be no chance for the improvement of peace. Yet Dr. Fite called attention to the improvement in the condition of the world over; the end of slavery; the betterment in our laws, etc. Why should it be impossible to look for an improvement as to war.

Already arbitration has headed off war more than one instance. Between 1865-70 war with Great Britain over the giving of aid to the Confederacy was avoided by arbitration. In 1904, investigation and arbitration avoided war between Russia and Great Britain, when the Russians in going to fight the Japanese, for some inexplicable reason fired on a British fishing fleet. During the period of intervention and inquiry, the passions on both sides had time to cool off and war was avoided. The friends of world peace believe it is within the bounds of rationality to prevent war entirely.

Dr. Fite's suggestion was for a World Court, but with certain other preliminaries. He believed that the whole idea of neutrality should be abolished; that there should be an abolition of the private ownership of manufactory of arms and munitions; that the nations should disarm on land as well as on sea.

Neutrality was defined as helping neither side out in their conflict. In other words, in time of war the neutral nations would join hands and form a figurative ring around the belligerents and tell them to fight it out. The idea of neutrality is comparatively new. In the days of the Roman empire, the world was divided into two camps, those in favor of Rome and those against Rome, and that whether or no they had any interest in the war. Later it was realized as unfair and a hardship that disinterested nations should be embroiled in the wars of their neighbors, and they demanded the right to stay out of wars not of their own making. For the first time in history, during Washington's administration, there was put on paper, laws about neutrality and they still stand as statutory, though somewhat amended, as follows. If the United States is neutral in time of war, the belligerents cannot come into our territory and enlist men. Furthermore they cannot come into our country to fit up war ships to go out against their enemy. But we can, through our private bankers, with the justification of our laws lend either or both belligerent all the money they want. We may allow the belligerents to come into the country and buy war supplies of every sort to their hearts content. "Is that being neutral?" asked Dr. Fite. "Is it not encouraging the belligerents to keep on fighting, in fact is it not prolonging the conflict? Why do we do it, when it seems so dishonorable? Because we make money by selling munitions to the belligerents, and supplies hard to be obtained in time of war, to other neutrals. We say that the wheels of trade, peaceful industry must go on in circumscribed localities and that we have the right to make money thereby."

During the World War, under the "doctrine of continuous voyage," England and the Allies ruled that we might not sell to other neutral countries bordering on Germany since, "by continuous voyage" they would go on to Germany where otherwise their price would be abnormally high. It was counted just as bad to ship goods to Norway and Sweden, etc., as to Germany. We practically inaugurated this idea in the Civil War when we would not allow England to sell articles to Cuba, and in the World War it reacted against us. So today the chances for neutrals to make money out of selling to belligerents grow more and more circumscribed, and the revolutions of those "wheels of trade" are, during war time, less and less vigorous. "Why not sweep neutrality aside?" asked the speaker. "And in the place adopt an economic boycott against the belligerents; refusing loans to them or to sell them anything? In other words adopt a policy of frowning upon them in every way." "Would it not be much more honor-

Laudable Fear.

Anyone would like to "take a year off." If it were not for the fear of being unable to find the way back.

Grover Cleveland Said.

"While the people should support the government, the government should not support the people."

A feather is used for gold mining in North China. Instead of a pan to wash out the gold, the Mongol—so Dr. Ferdinand Ossendowski tells us in his book "Beasts, Men and Gods"—uses a fan on the ground, brushes the sand into the little excavation, and then, from time to time, he picks up a small bit of grain or a diminutive nugget, drops it into a little bag hanging under his chin. In that way he collects about a quarter of an ounce, or five dollars' worth of gold a day.

Justice, such as the late President Harding advocated. There is a difference between arbitration, diplomacy and judicial procedure. When it is a question of diplomatic, nation speak to nations face to face regarding their difficulties. But if it is a question of arbitration, then the nations themselves cease to speak to one another, face to face directly. In that case the arbitrators settle the dispute without regard to either disputant, but according to their own best judgment. Already about twenty world disputes have been thus settled. But there are shortcomings in the arbitration form of war prevention. The judges are never the same in more than one case, as there are between 200 and 300 names to choose one's arbitrators from. And the judges not being the same, there is not the desired growth in international rulings. It would be so much more effective if the tribunal were permanent, always open and ready to hear litigants with judges always the same (within human limits). But, here again, there is a lack if we as individuals and nations do not obey the voice of government of the states may call on the militia to enforce the law, and after we have no international militia, a public opinion comes the nearest to it. Friends of the League of Nations don't care to recognize the Court of Permanent International Law, though the court is the child of the League of Nations, and the biggest thing that it has put into operation thus far.

In any event, Dr. Fite considered that the very general discussion of the whole problem of prevention of war helps to make the people think and plan, and with or without the Bok Peace Prize of $100,000 that was and will be worth while.

DONATES $115,000 TO ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE

A donor who refuses to allow his name as yet to be published has just presented to St. Stephen's College $115,000 for the enlargement of its scientific laboratories. This makes a total of gifts received for extension of the college this autumn of some what over a quarter of a million dollars. This money has been secured without any public campaign. It is expected that a similar amount will be subscribed by next September so that the half million dollar, improvements contemplated can be carried out in the immediate future. In addition to the new science building, dormitory accommodations will be ready by next autumn which will enable the college to take eighty more men than has previously been the case. St. Stephen's College is having all it can do to provide accommodations for the men who are seeking to able than our present hypocritical way of making millions and billions out of help along both sides?" asked Dr. Fite.

Dr. Fite's second suggestion was the creating a law against war. War is infinitely worse than murder and all other crimes which are now punishable by law. Today our government is punishing violations of the prohibition law. Why could it not do the same thing if there were a law against war? The argument was sure to be put forth as to what was to be done if one were to have to defend their rights against criminal aggression on the part of others. The law admits of self-defense, even to the killing of an assailant to preserve one's own life. The same principle could apply to war. After the war, it could be determined whether the culprit, who started the war and a proper punishment according to law could be meted out. In that case, of course, we would have to do away with places of political refuge such as Holland is now offering to Emperor William.

In the third place, Dr. Fite could see no reason why the government should not take over the manufacturing of arms and munitions of every sort, thus doing away with the temptation to enormous private profit out of war. Then if men want to hunt or have firearms in their homes, let them take out licenses to do so. Today we cannot buy poison without a license. We cannot buy alcohol without a license, yet the speaker was sure that war had killed many many more than either poison or alcohol. So long as the private manufacturing of munitions continues, the element of private gain may continue to foment wars, especially between small nations and states as is to be seen in the countless Mexican revolutions, without a doubt. If the United States did its own manufacturing of all sorts of arms, it is hard to conceive of even the smallest of nations or states succeeding in buying of the government sufficient munitions to start a revolution.

The fourth and last suggestion was that the various governments should carry out the principles of disarmament on land as they have begun to do on sea. And what a difference it would make to the tax payers if the land forces to be maintained were cut as have been the sea forces. Of course Dr. Fite realized, that just now, before the results of the late war were settled, it would be difficult to undertake this latter program. Then there would arise the question as to who should do it first. How far should the disarmament go?

Dr. Fite firmly believed that much could be done toward the abolition, or prevention of war in the foregoing four ways and he also believed in a Court of Permanent International

Umpires Fail to Notice

When a batter hits the ball with one foot out of the batter's box, the penalty prescribed by the rule book is out. In recent years batters seem to be getting away with it and have been stepping up to hit the ball before it breaks.

GEORGE SISLER ONE OF YOUNGEST PILOTS

One of Greatest Players Game Has Ever Produced.

George Harold Sisler, star first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, who has just been appointed manager of that club, is one of the youngest pilots of major league ball clubs. He was born at Mauchester, Ohio, March 24, 1883. Sisler is one of the greatest players baseball has ever produced, writes Lillian Leacock, in the Chicago Post. He was adjudged the most valuable player in the American league for the season of 1922, leading the batters with a mark of 320, the highest average ever attained in the league; he also led in number of hits, runs, three-base hits, singles and stolen bases. Sisler graduated from the University of Michigan in June, 1915, and Branch Rickey, under whose coaching Sisler became a star ball player in college, persuaded the collegian to sign a contract to play with the St. Louis Browns, of which team Rickey had become manager.

Although he had no minor league training except a few months' summer ball he debuted in white still in college. Sisler immediately became a regular after joining St. Louis. Sisler was an all round player; he was a southpaw pitcher, first baseman or outfielder, and played any of those positions collectively until the season of 1918, when he was stationed permanently in first base. Year after year he was near the top in batting, base stealing and fielding.

This remarkable young man is the exceptional player that bursts forth only once in a decade, who is about as mechanically perfect as is humanly possible. He is a shining example of movement without effort. He is the smoothest, easiest worker of all ball players, and runs as lightly as a feather wafted through the air. However brilliant a player there is some doubt as to his ability to manage a big league team. Sisler is what is known as a "dead player." He lacks color, his nature being passive rather than active. He has that detached air, rarely speaking to another player, even a teammate. He never argues with the umpire or protests a decision. Only once during his career has he been banished from the game for disputing a decision by the umpire.

The spirit and aggressiveness that characterize Ty Cobb are totally absent from Sisler's character. Whatever happens on the field of battle, Sisler is quite unmoved. It is hardly likely that he will inspire his men to victory when he himself is so cold, so silent. A manager utterly lacking fire and dash is scarcely apt to get the best work out of his players.

Another Star From Iowa

Wayland K. Hicks, captain of last year's Iowa basketball team and captain of the 1924 baseball team, is a promising football player. Hicks is developing very rapidly and Iowa's coach says he will shortly be one of the best all-around athletes of the state.

YOUNG JUDEA TEAM TO PLAY BEACON

The Young Judea basketball team of this city will play its second home game of the season on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock on the Hebrew School Hall court. Their opponents, the Holy Name A. C. of Beacon, N. Y., who made a fine reputation last season, are expected to put up a great fight.

Last season the Kingston Young Judeans, through their hard, clean playing, earned a much envied reputation, and they are looking forward to the brightest season of their career.

Among the men who will be called upon this season to uphold the honor of the team are Wolf, captain; Reuben, manager; and Moyers, whose ability and work, especially in the defense, is well known; Arnot, Lipshin and Pein (a new and strong addition to the team) are the point getters. Millens, the pivot man, is displaying a good brand of ball. Altogether these players comprise one of the fastest teams in this vicinity.

He is a member of the Rensselaer Society of Engineers.
